Artist Statement

Xanthe Muston is a Sydney-based artist whose practice explores private moments of introspection and connection. Influenced by her studies in English Literature, Xanthe's process often begins by taking scenes from short stories and poems, particularly those of Raymond Carver and Mark Strand that contemplate the interior, domestic world and the people who inhabit it. Using a combination of watercolour, gouache, and ink, Xanthe renders scenes that capture the quiet shifts and movements of everyday happenings, which often go overlooked.
